It is to be observed in his church until the end of the age for the perpetual remembrance of the sacrifice of himself in his death, for the sealing of all the benefits of that death unto true believers, for their spiritual nourishment and growth in him, for their increased commitment to perform all the duties which they owe to him, and for a bond and pledge of their fellowship with him and with each other as members of his mystical body.

The image shows a musical score for a hymn, consisting of two staves: a treble staff at the top and a bass staff at the bottom. The treble staff begins with a treble clef, and the bass staff begins with a bass clef. The music is written in a common time signature, indicated by a 'C' symbol. The melody is composed of eighth and quarter notes, with some measures containing rests. The lyrics are written below the treble staff, aligned with the notes. There are four verses of the hymn, each with four lines of text. The first line of each verse is 'bonds of peace', 'bonds of love', 'bonds of grace', and 'feast of heav'n'. The second line of each verse is 'a - round the ta - ble of the King.' The third line of each verse is 'a - round the ta - ble of the King.' The fourth line of each verse is 'a - round the ta - ble of the King.' The music ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign.
